Discovering Dorothea Lange’s Photographs of the Internment of Japanese Americans.

This image set contains images that Ansel Adams made in the Manzanar Relocation Center in 1943. They are included here for comparison with Dorothea Lange’s work.
Joyce Yuki Nakamura, (eldest daughter), 1943.
Note: this is the same girl in the next slide, Joyce Nakamura (Okazaki)
Mrs. Naguchi and two children, Manzanar Relocation Center, 1943.
Note: the girl in the striped dress is the same girl in the previous slide, Joyce Nakamura (Okazaki).
Calisthenics, Manzanar Relocation Center, California, 1943.
Mrs. Nakamura and family buying clothing, Manzanar Relocation Center, 1943
In biology class, high school, Kiyo Yoshida, Lillian Watkatsuki, Yoshiko Yamasaki, Manzanar Relocation Center, 1943.
Nurse Aiko Hamaguchi, patient Tom Kano. Manzanar Relocation Center, California, 1943.
Manzanar from Guard Tower, view west (Sierra Nevada in background), Manzanar Relocation Center, California, 1943.
Richard Kobayashi, farmer with cabbages, Manzanar Relocation Center, California, 1943.
Tom Kobayashi, Landscape, Manzanar Relocation Center, California, 1943.
Roy Takeno, editor reading paper in front of office, Manzanar Relocation Center, California, 1943